So What About You? By Rav Dudi

Shabbat Shalom Camp Moshava Family

This Shabbat we will start reading ספר דברים. This Moshe's last speech to Bnei Yisrael before his death. We can notice the repetition of few stories from previous חומשים with minor changes.

Moshe wants to make sure that Am Yisrael is ready to be brought into the land of Israel.

Moshe takes this opportunity to rebuke Am Yisrael for what they have done in the past in order for them to learn a lesson to the future.

One may ask: Why did Moshe wait for so long to rebuke Bnei Yisrael? Couldn't he give a proper mussar to Bnei Yisrael after each incident?

The Midrash tells us that Moshe wanted to teach us that if someone has something against somebody else, he shouldn't share it with him until before his own death or until he gets to see him for the last time – in order not to make the other feel bad about himself.

Even though Moshe had a lot of Mussar to give over to Bnei Yisrael after 40 years in the desert, He kept it with him till the very last moment, just not to embarrass his own people while wondering in the desert with him as their leader.

We should learn from our leader – Moshe, How to keep some things and some words to ourselves. Not everything we think – needs to be said.

The Gemara teaches us how words can destroy worlds. How a story of שנאת חינוך with the wrong usage of the wrong words, had destroyed our בית המקדש.

Let's take upon ourselves this Shabbat and During the fast, to decrease not only the food that comes into our mouths, rather the amount of unnecessary words that come out of it.

Man is unique for his power of speech. Hashem created the world with his speech. We can rebuild the Beit Hamikdash and bring all Jews back together if we will just pay more attention to our power of speech.

Parshat Devarim by: Yehuda Bessner

One of the primary reasons for the destruction of the Beit Hamikdash was the baseless hatred among Am Israel. Sadly, this happens not to be solely an issue of the past, but rather, one that takes precedence in our days as well. We constantly make false assumptions about other people that can sometimes lead to a hating relationship with people around us.

In the second chapter of Pirkei Avot, Hillel says "Do not judge your fellow until you have reached his place". The way I interpret this passage is as follows. When you find a friend doing something that might seem wrong or odd, you should try to figure out their situation and their circumstances and put yourself in their position before making any conclusions and try to always have the benefit of the doubt.

Final Interview of the Year with Eytan Plugah and Uncle Ben

Moshava: Good evening gentleman, a pleasure to have you here for the final interview of the year. Now, keep in mind, that the last few of these have been pretty lousy.

Ben: Hey, I wrote the last one! That's pretty harsh! You know I used to think you made these up. Now that I'm here I realize how much pressure there is.

Eytan: yes

Ben: Be quiet Eytan, the alpaca can give a better interview than you.

Eytan: Good time to be alive

Moshava: Ok...as I was saying, we need to make this one count. O.K I have a question. What is the greatest sports moment you ever remember at camp?

Eytan: So long story short, I was driving with Vince and we were listening to 640AM news with Andy Frost, and the Monaghan Lumber commercial came on – URGG URGG don't bark up the wrong tree.

Moshava: What does that have to do with sports at camp?

Ben: Best moment is when Bordan got stuffed by the camp Northland people.

Moshava: What was the highlight of your summer this year?

Eytan: I felt sympathy for a raccoon and gave them water.

Moshava: That's nice of you but was that your highlight?

Eytan: Huh, what was the question?

Ben: When the fire boat came to Mach Hach. Like it's a fire boat. It was amazing

Eytan: Uriel named the raccoon Steven. It was meaningful.

Moshava: I'm making you sound like a complete idiot in this

Eytan: Hey man, my parents are going to read this

Moshava: this interview is done. It's perfect

Ben: I can't believe I was second banana in an interview with Eytan

ROSH MACH HACH DANIEL BORDAN

Hi Everyone,

As I sat in jail in the days before Mach Hach 2016, I thought the following to myself....

"We've come too far! And I'm going to stay right here and fight for this lost cause. A day may come when the courage of men fails... but it is not THIS day. The line must be drawn HERE. This far, no further! I'm not saying it's going to be easy. You're going to work harder than you ever worked before. But that's fine, we'll just get tougher with it! If a person grits his teeth and shows real determination, failure is not an option. That's how winning is done! Believe me when I say we can break this army here, and win just one for the Gipper. But I say to you what every warrior has known since the beginning of time: you've got to get mad. I mean plum mad dog mean. If you would be free men, then you must fight to fulfill that promise! Let no man forget how menacing we are. We are lions! You're like a big bear, man! This is YOUR time! Seize the day, never surrender, victory or death... that's the Chicago Way! Who's with me? Clap! Clap! Don't let Tink die! Clap! Alright! Let's fly! And gentlemen in England now a-bed shall know my name is the Lord when I tell our enemies that they may take our lives, but they'll never take our Independence Day!"

Thank you to Matthew Belinkie for his creativity.

Mach Hach Trip Life

By Sarah Judelman and Alexa Edelstein

It all begins when Bordan is excited to announce the upcoming trip. Little did he know, we've known for a week. Right away we make eye contact with our bus buddy. If nobody wants to triple up with you, don't worry. The aisle is always there. #50OnABus with everyone's sleeping bags, the aisle makes a great bed... until you get stepped on.

SOMEONE ALWAYS NEEDS TO GO!. It's contagious. You're a hero is you can open those stubborn windows. Congrats to you if you can start a cheer and get Bonnie to join. Wanna make new friends? BRING SNACKS!! Jumbo slushie at your pit stop at macs = bad idea. You'll need to go.

You finally get a good convo going when Bordan stands up and announces we're here. Everyone is pushing and shoving to finally get some fresh air.

Trip diet = cereal, sandwiches, BBQ, repeat. Every trip is better than the last. On the way home everyone is exhausted and if you make noise you're a criminal. We get back to camp, unpack, and repack for the next AMAZING MH trip!! Shabbat Shalom!!

Classic 2K16 MH - late wake ups courtesy of Havdawg and Saban - unusually large amount of bathroom breaks on canoe trip - picking our own night tochnits -two ambulances in one week -camper days off -camper/ counselor races from flagpoles to bunk after dark -bonfire count: #18 - campers (not counsellors) befriending Mike and Dave - Niagara phone count #32 - seaweed being the mashiach - very lame finger-jokes -relying on Roey's mom for daily sports news - Bordava being Mh's Jelena - wearing each other's hats and pretending that live isn't going around camp -Tossi taking charge whenever Bordava goes out of the room -lastly, Mh 2k16 having more ruach and achdut than Alef

Stare at Noam Levkovich. No long story or build up here, just walk up to the man and stare at his face. He'll get a little weired out, but that's not a bad thing in this case. You have permission to do this. Go.

This week's SHOUT-OUT goes the Jolly Green Giant. Nobody really knows what made him green or that large, but the fact that he's ben so consistently happy since 1925 is pretty impressive. Go Green. Go Giants. Go Jolly?
