Parshat Devarim / Shabbat Daled

Volume 21 Number 3
From the Office of the Jewish Panther

Parshat Devarim with Rav Gal!

This week's parasha opens the book that its name represents one of the biggest success stories of all times. Moshe overcame his speech impediment (problem) and wrote an entire book which is actually a very long speech that he gave to Bnei Yisrael before they entered Israel. So, what was Moshe's secret to success?

One of the things that Moshe did was to simply except the fact that he wasn't perfect and agreed to get help-from Hashem, from Aaron, from Yitro and from anyone that offered him help or advice. Chazal (the sages) say that he was the most modest man who ever lived.

Unfortunately, sometimes there are leaders who really think that they are perfect and who don't really listen to anyone, even to the people who care about them.

As campers, we try our best to contribute and succeed in our peulot, in cleaning our bunk, in davening and in so many things. We need to remember that we aren't perfect and that we may make mistakes. The way to improve and succeed is by listening to our friends and to our camp leaders, while excepting their positive criticism (their advice).

Wishing you all a Shabbat in which we will truly listen to each other and by that Ahavat Chinam, help rebuild the Beit Hamikdash, Amen.

DALED DYAR TORAH BY ANNIE ROSENBLUM AND MEITAL CAYAN-RAND

In this weeks Parasha, Moshe starts his final speech to Bnei Yisrael with a list of places. On a simple level, it seems like a list of random places Bnei Yisrael have been in, but Rashi finds something deeper. He says that all the places listed each represent a sin Bnei Yisrael did. Why did Moshe give rebuke like this? He loved Bnei Yisrael and didn't want to embarrass them, so he rebuked them in a hidden way. This could teach us to never embarrass if someone is doing something wrong.

Shabbat shalom

Remember that time when TK and Gilda came for an interview?

TK – I love camp.

Gilda – It's my birthday – I love camp. My birthday when I'm not in camp is terrible.

TK – What happened to the blow up cake?

Gilda – We got rid of it

TK – I loved that cake. It had no calories. Gilda, did you get anything for your birthday

Gilda – I caught a fish. Want to see it?

TK – It's in your pocket? Your pockets will stink

Gilda – It's a picture.

TK – That makes way more sense

Moshava: Ok, let's ask some questions.

TK – You have a lot of toys in here. So many crayons. Gilda, maybe you should get some crayons. I thought you weren't doing this interview any more.

Moshava: I wasn't going to, but for you I'm giving it one more shot. Ok, here's a question. If we could add any activity to camp, what would it be?

TK – Underwater basket weaving.

Sari – Parasailing! What is this? Is this for real? Why are you asking me this? Do you still need me. This is like a drive through interview!

Moshava: Next question.

TK: I took sandpaper

Gilda: You did not. I have a really funny story about feet.

Zack Brown: This is going to be a great interview.

Meet Jakie the Pitzker Rebbe" Kuperstock

Hello Camp Moshava, My name Is Jakie Kuperstock. I want to tell you the real reason why I became Rosh Eidah Daled. It's simple: My middle name is Amos. That's me—Jacob Amos Kuperstock. I also love Shabbos and I love all the halachot of Shabbos! Let me explain, without an eruv you can not carry in the public domain beyond your personal four cubits. Cubits in Hebrew are called Amos!

You see where I'm going with this yet? See, I want to replace my first name with "Daled" How could I resist making my name Daled Amos Kuperstock!

This way, when I meet people and they ask me about my crazy unusual name, I can teach them some halachot on the spot! It'll be amazing. Yishtabach Shemo La'ad!

Summer recap by Josh Vorchheimer

We got to camp and we were introduced to our Rosh Eidah Jaquie. That is when we knew our summer would be lit. The next day there was a snack box issue. Apparently Reese's pieces do have peanuts in them. From that moment we were off to the races. From awesome night tochnits to five burgers at dinner (Koby Koby), to Mifkad, we always brought the ruach. Then there was colour war. Across all the teams Daled stood out cheering the loudest, running the fastest and working as hard as they could to bring their team the win. Our night tochnits are a mix of chill and messy from water fights to throwing surprise birthday parties. We learn a lot in our peulot and have a lot of fun doing them too. In Afiah we learned skills and techniques required in the kitchen and learned to make amazing baking creations. In DJ and producer we learned to mix tracks in garage band and in Agam we learned to waterski. We went on our first trip to an escape maze where we had to solve clues and riddles to unlock locks and complete a challenge faster than the other groups (R.I.P Walmart). I don't know what's in store for us in the rest of the summer but I do know that whatever it is, with Daled it will be full of ruach, craziness and fun.

Top 7 colour war breakouts for 2018 we almost did, but decided NOT to do...

8. Campwide game of Can Jam—winner is Rosh Mosh
7. Play cake wars and create food that nobody is going to eat.
6. Sports Staff Vs Raccoon Basketball
5. Bring the camp to Wal Mart five minutes before they close, leave everyone there overnight and see what happens.
4. Send Ari Roz on the zipline with a garbage bag full of colours to release as he goes down the wire. It would be so cool. What could possibly go wrong?
3. Confuse everyone with a lunch of random things—like tacos, orzo, sweet potatoes and black olives. They'll never see it coming.
2. Tell everyone that the Lakers game is NOT tomorrow!
1. Have the whole camp search through the recycling bins to find Eidah Bet One's banana cheers from!

Moshevet Yisrael!

This week was a wild ride! We started off with celebrating the annual ICON - Israel's Comic-con with a hero dress-up dinner!

We continued with a dinner at Gan Sacher in Jerusalem, complete with caricature artists, sports and games and of course a great dinner with popcorn for dessert!

We weren't done yet! Our week of Israeli culture continued with a crazy Machaneh Yeudah open-air market experience when we turned Shekem into an an-all out shuk experience! Everyone got vouchers and had negotiate their way to shekem glory!

We are gearing up for a week of Jewish diversity and unity! Looking forward to an amazing journey ahead!
