Parshat Pinchas— Shabbat Eidah Bet 2!

Volume 20 Number 3
From the Office that loves Torah & Mischief

Finding YOUR family in the Torah!

We cover a lot of material in Pinchas. Some of it is engaging and fascinating and other parts such as the list of the family names and the details of the Korbanot for Musaf are less intriguing. Let's be honest, for all we learn that every part of the Torah is equally important, people seem to be far more interested in learning more about the 10 plagues, splitting the sea and receiving food from the heavens than reading off pasuk after pasuk of names and census totals.

This is where we have to look at the Torah with fresh eyes. We know the Torah is for all-time. We have the Torah now and we will have it in the era of the Mashiach. At that point it would seem that the stuff we find more interesting will change. When we greet the Messianic age, Hashem's presence in the world will be more obvious than it is now. The readings about amazing miracles like the plagues and the manna will always be awesome but not as much a shocker or novelty as they are to us today. On the other hand, when Am Yisrael is truly re-united in the time of the Mashiach, when we read the names of the families we'll actually know people we're talking about. Imagine seeing your family name in the Torah! "Hey, that's my Zaidy" is a pretty outstanding thing to think during laining. When we read about the Korbanot we'll actually need to really take notes to make sure we do it right when it's our turn to step up in the Beit HaMikdash.

We need to start believing that it can happen and that it can happen this year. We at camp will start planning our teaching material for Tisha B'Av but only as a worst-case scenario. The plan is to celebrate Tisha B'Av in Yerushalayim at the Beit HaMikdash. Please get your passports in order and pack your bags. We're going home!

Pinchas Stats

41st of the 54 sedras;
8th of 10 in Bamidbar
Written on 280 lines in a Torah (rank: 2nd)
35 Parshiyot; 10 'P', 25 'S'
168 psukim – ranks 2nd
1887 words – ranks 9th
7853 letters – ranks 4th
Second shortest psukim in the Torah, wordwise. Longest words in the Torah (on average). 49th of 54 in length of psukim, letterwise. Second longest sedra, pasukwise.
These factors combine to explain the unusual fluctuation in rankings.
Pinchas is the most often-read from sedra in the whole Torah (Rosh Chodesh & Chagim in addition to Parshat HaShavua)

BET TWO TORAH BY EMMA SHORE & SHAYNA KATZMAN

Firstly, I want to give a shout out to Gita Margolese for helping me write this dvar torah. In this week's parsha we learn that after Zelophehad dies, his daughters had to take initiative in order to get the land that they believed belonged to them. They approached Moshe with the situation and the answer they got worked out in their favour. In camp, we are faced with problems that we have to overcome. The only way to accomplish this is by taking initiative like Zelophehad's daughters. Shabbat shalom from all of EIDAH BET TWO!

Interview with Ari Fingerote, Talya Saban Moshe Balofsky and Yosef Sklar

Moshava: Talya, it's finally your turn to be in the newsletter. How do you feel?

Talya – Pretty excited to be honest. Oh wow, where did you get a donut from?

Sklar: IO. They have everything there. I'm going to sit silently now eating my donut. Actually my favourite IO story is a colour war breakout when they made shekem healthy for three days. They brought in a nutritionist to explain why they made shekem healthy. Then after breakout they went back to junk food. It was the worst message ever.

Moshava: Speaking of Shekem...Ari just walked in. Hey Ari, what's shekem missing?

Ari: I really don't want a shekem joke. I'm actually serious though. People come up to me during meals and say, "Ari I want a hot chocolate."

Moshava: ok. No shekem jokes. Which reminds me, there were two muffins in an oven, one muffin says to the other muffin...hey it's hot in here. The other muffin said what...?

Moshe: I can't wait to be dedicated to plugah!

Sklar: Are you a beaver, because darn.

Ari: I need something good to say here. I got nothing

Moshava: No, it's "hey, a talking muffin" Ok. new question

Ari: I'm serious, don't include anything about shekem, People always come up to me and ask me for shekem.

Moshava: This interview is all about shekem at this point.

Ari: Anything Oreos is good – you can't go wrong with Oreos. Field of dreams

Talya: I want the closing line

Moshava: No.

Sklar: Nothing intelligent is said after 1:30am city time

Meet Hilla

"Hill Zee Poo Ninety Seven" Sheinberg

Hey Kiddos,

Welcome to this week's session of "Chillz with Hillz". Not many people have the absolute zechus of hearing me talking about myself because none of you are in the Rosh Eidah room. So I'm going to fill you in on some fun facts about me.

Firstly, Hilla isn't my actual name.... It's Hilla! - like "Heel-la" stop calling me Hilla. Like actually.

More Fun Facts: Everyone thinks my dad is a part of the Mossad, but he's not. It's just totally normal to complain about our noisy neighbors and then they suddenly disappear.

And doesn't everyone have 24 passports and a series of books called "How to blend in as a normal Canadian family"?

I have to go eat poutine and play hockey now.

Bye!

Everything you wanted to know about colour war but was afraid to ask!

By Jordan Jesin - Eidah Bet 2

Rain, rain, go away, come again another day... whoops! I was just thinking about colour war 2017! I heard it was one of the closest colour wars in Moshava history! I can't believe that red won! There were MANY awesomesauce things about this years' colour war. The cheering, painting, singing, sports-ing, building, Simon says-ing and wining-ing... wait, now I'm confused! The first question was about when colour war is, is now answered! Now for the next, will Gofine ever end up in the pool?! Have a good Shabbos!

Moshevet Tzion

It's time for a Shabbat Shalom after another amazing week in Yerushalayim. On Sunday, we met Shlomo HeMelech, who showed us his wisdom with difficult riddles, and rewarded one special bunk with his immense riches (don't worry, the prize is still coming!). He also built the first beautiful Beit HaMikdash right here in Moshava! The next day, the Kohen Gadol (shout out to Rosh Eidah Bet 1, David Jesin!) prepared for the Avodah with a little Al Netilat Raglayim, then gave a special Birkat Kohanim at Mifkad. Then Shivah Asar B'Tammuz came around, the day when the walls of Yerushalayim were breached, and marked the beginning of the end of the first Beit HaMikdash.

All of this, of course, pales in comparison to the highlight of the week, Moshava Colour War 2017! While every Colour War has to have one winner (in this case, Red is Better!), three teams engaged in an epic competition to decide what the best era of Jerusalem was. Whether you supported Beit David, the Chashmonaim, or the Ichud Halr modern times, each team fought for their vision of Yerushalayim. We're all looking forward to another great week of Moshevet Tzion!

Ezra Katzman is a madrich in Eidah Aleph. He is lonely and wants people to wish him a Shabbat shalom. Please go over to him and shake his hand or wave to him and wish him a Shabbat Shalom You'll make his day!

This Week's Shout-Out goes to the pool which misses Gofine so much. All the pool wants is Gofine.

Good luck pool, may you and Gofine be reunited very soon
